Native South challenges scholars of southern history to expand their conception of the field to include more than the black and white post-colonial south that colors much of the historical literature of the region. The journal focuses on the investigation of Southeastern Indian history with the goals of encouraging further study and exposing the influences of Indian people on the wider South. It does not limit itself to the study of the geographic area that was once encompassed by the Confederacy, but expands its view to the areas occupied by the pre-contact and the post-contact descendants of the original inhabitants of the South, wherever they may be.

Published annually

One-year subscription, U.S. Institutions $90.00
One-year subscription, Institutions outside the U.S. $96.00
One-year electronic subscription $90.00

Prices are subject to change.

Please complete the following and send this page to your library’s serials acquisition librarian and/or the appropriate subject librarian.

Your Name:_________________________________________ Title:_________________________________________

Department:_________________________________________

Telephone:________________________ e-mail:_________________________________________

How would this journal be used? Who would the primary users be?

How does this journal differ from those currently held by the library? What gap in the library’s collection does it fill?

Other comments supporting the acquisition of this journal:

Signature:_________________________________________

For more information contact: University of Nebraska Press
1111 Lincoln Mall
Lincoln, NE 68588-0630
402-472-8536
www.nebraskapress.unl.edu
journals@unl.edu

This journal is available online through Project MUSE. Read a free issue on Project MUSE at http://bit.ly/MUSE_NS_Free.

To subscribe contact your library subscription agent or order print subscriptions directly from University of Nebraska Press and electronic subscriptions directly from Project MUSE.